Jacob Rombough.

Sills Scrapbook

31 July 1955

Jacob Rombough, who departed this life on the 29th of November last, was born in South Fredericksburgh, nearly 94 years ago. His father, who was a German by birth, emigrated to America from that country when a young man. He was for some time engaged in the Revolutionary struggle of 1773 which ended in the severance of the United States from Great Britain. Before the termination of the war, however, he in company with a comrade arranged to cross over to Canada by way of Lake Champlain, and very soon after setting foot upon Canadian soil he settled on a farm in South Fredericksburgh, where he lived comfortably until he died.

Jacob, the subject of this sketch, soon after his father's death moved to the township of Camden where for a long period of seventy years he lived a respectable and honorable life.

He was made one of the first justices of the peace for the township of Camden, and was said to be honest and most impartial in exercising his functions as a magistrate. His co-temporary brethren of the bench who often sat with him when administering justice have long since passed to their account, Samuel Clark and Wm. Bell.

The squire's reminiscences of court days at Clark's Mills were alike instructive, interesting and amusing. By virtue of his office as a justice of the peace he performed nearly all the marriages not only in Camden township but far beyond it, some coming even a distance of thirty miles through mud and rain to have the knot tied that makes two hearts beat as one. A couple by the name of Parks still live in South Fredericksburgh, who were united in marriage by the old squire.

Mr. Rombough held to the Presbyterian Church, and his home was the abode of many of the early ministers who were sent out by the presbytery to give an occasional service, for it was not till many years after he came to Camden that a stated ministry was formed and a place of worship erected where the 6th concession church now stands. Mr. Rombough was married in South Fredericksburgh by the late Rev. Robert McDonald (sic), the pioneer presbyterian minister of Adolphustown. Mrs. Rombough's maiden name was Milligan. They were blessed with a family of eleven children, six daughters and five sons, of whom five daughters and two sons are living.

There are also fifty grandchildren, thirty great grandchildren and three great great grandchildren alive. Mrs. Rombough died nearly twenty four years ago. The funeral of the squire testified to the respect

Another information relative to the "Green Title" was that it was left with an old man named Jacob Ranbau, this may be of value.

We shall be most grateful for any information you may have or suggestions that will help.

Sincerest Good Wishes.

in which he was held by all classes of the community. It was largely attended and had his death been more widely circulated there would have been a still larger gathering. The occasion was improved by a sermon from the text II Corinth. V. Chapter 1: "For we know that if our earthly house of the tabernacle were dissolved we have a building of God an house not made with hands eternal in the heavens." In the death of Jacob Rombough another of the ancient landmarks that connect the past with the present in the history of this township has disappeared from human eyes and human touch. "Our fathers where are they, and the prophets do they live forever?" Squire Rombough lived to an age it is the lot of few who reach. Few live over the allotted span of three or four score years, but his was an exception of the general law of human life. Had he lived till next April he would have completed his 94th year.

"Yet doth the strength of such old men,

But grief and labor prove."

When the writer of this brief sketch last saw him at the home of his son his eyes was lay no means dim nor was his power in ready utterance restrained, he was quick and ready to give reason for the hope that was in him. "I have set my house in order," said he "and I but await the Saviour's summons," and the summons came at midnight of the 29th of November, and the ransomed and liberated spirit of Jacob Rombough had entered the house eternal built by God.

Librarian.

The Public Library.

Mapane, Ontario.

My dear Librarian:-

For many years, from time to time, a search has been made for information on one Samuel Warn who spent some time at Mapane Mills, Ontario, Canada.

This information concerning Samuel's residence in Canada has just come to me to-day, and it is sincerely hoped that you may be able to help in solving the problem.

Samuel was born in Massachusetts Oct 5 1805 and we can only assume that he was of the same Warn family who moved from Massachusetts to N. Byron, New York. (Genesee County) in 1816.

We know that he drove a team of Mules on the Erie Canal as a young man. The Canal was opened in 1824 - We know he served a full apprenticeship in the Carpenter trade and became an expert in that profession.

He married. Althea Case, Born in New York State, in 1829. A daughter was born in New York State in 1838. He was in Iowa about 1844 later moving to Minnesota and Wisconsin from which moves he never returned to New York or Canada.

Samuel was given a Queens Title for service to the Queen for building saw mills at Mapane Mills on Near by Areas.
There should be some record, some place for this service.

It would be my guess that this occurred some time between 1829 date of marriage and 1840 when we find him in Iowa. He no doubt learned the Carpenter trade after the Erie Canal experience and was probably married before his work in Canada.

If you are unable to search the records we would appreciate your having some one do it for me.
A professional Genealogist if this is one in your City.
I will be most willing to pay any reasonable amount for this service and ask that you send me statement for that service.

OBITUARIES

CARLOS DOUGLAS ROMBOUGH

There passed peacefully away on May 9, 1957, at his home in Weston, after several months illness, Carlos Douglas Rombough, in his 80th year, the only son of the late John George Rombough and his wife Lucinda S. Card, of Enterprise, both descendants of United Empire Loyalists of that district—the Romboughs and Cards being the first settlers of Camden Township. It was here that the late Mr. Rombough spent his early years and attended school, later going to Winnipeg, Man., Vancouver, B.C., and other western towns. In 1912 he settled in Toronto where he was engaged in the building and contracting business. For the past 29 years he has resided in Weston.

He is survived by his wife, the former Edith Maude Fenwick, also of Enterprise, and one daughter Mrs. Frank Pope (Marjorie), of Weston, and three sons, Murray and Grant, of Vancouver, B.C., Wallace, Weston, also four grandsons and one granddaughter in Vancouver, B.C., and three granddaughters and one grandson in Weston, and one sister, Mrs. E. E. Card (Alieux), of Brookfield, New York.

The funeral took place on Saturday, May 11, from the Ward Funeral Home, Main St., Weston, the Rev. David Gault officiating. Interment was in Glendale Memorial Gardens. The many floral tributes showed the high esteem in which the late Mr. Rombough was held. The pallbearers were: Roy Burnett, Saul Gibbons, George Rowntree, Henry Pope, William Steadman, and Thomas Rimmer.

U. E. L. Claims.

Rombough.

352. Evidence on the Claim of Jacob Rombough, late of Tryon County,
New York Province. Montreal, 16 Feb., 1788.

Claimt. Sworn.

Says he was at Oswego & Cataraqua in 1783 on duty as a soldier in the 2nd Batal. N. York Regt.

He is a native of N. Jersey. In 1775 he lived in Tryon County. Says that he was always friendly to Gt. Britain & that he never joined the rebels.
In 1776 he was taken Prisoner, but broke gaol. He afterwards attempted to go to Canada & was taken & tried for his life. He came to Canada in 1781 & enlisted in Sir John Johnson's 2nd Batal. He had 3 sons in the same Regt.

He now lives at New Johnston.

The rebels took 2 Cows, 2 Bulls, 2 Oxen & 5 Heifers. All his corn in the ground. The wheat was gathered. Furniture & Farming Utensils.

His Son-in-Law, James Hannah, has got possession of his Lands.

Wits. James Logan, Sworn.

He knew Claimt. during the War & knew him always to be a Loyal man.
His Son-in-Law, Jas. Hannah, is now in Possession of his Lands.

Some of his Cattle were carried off by the rebels. He was a man in good circumstances when Wits. knew him. He had a large crop in the ground & in Barn when he fled. Does not believe that his Son-in-Law got any of the grain.

Dr. Burleigh,
Bath, Ontario.

Dear Dr. Burleigh;

One day last fall I had the pleasure of meeting you. I dropped in late in the afternoon and we had a little talk about my ancestors, the Sills and Rombough families. I mentioned the Sills bible which I had, at that time. I do not have possession of it now, however I feel things are working favourably toward that end. When I do get it, I would like to see it put in it's proper place with the other U.E.L. relics.

I did manage to get the front pages copied and am sending along copies for your record. I have included copies of other records from a Rombough Bible and an obituary of an ancestress, Anna Cadman, who married Robert Sills in 1825.

I hope these will be of interest and use to you in your splendid work in documenting as far as possible the histories of these early families.

I hope to get down your way in the good weather and would like very much to pay you another visit at that time.

Yours truly,

Alex Legram
